

Melody Ouyang's Piano Studio

Are All Piano Studios the Same?
	Melody Ouyang's Piano Studio	Other Piano Studios
Our teachers are not only university trained, most of our teachers has a Doctoral and Master degree in Piano from top schools in the U.S. All of us have gone through extensive pedagogical trainings and share the same high standard of teaching philosophies as our director, Dr. Melody Ouyang, critical acclaimed performer and music educator. We believe only true musicians understands what it takes to teach music	X
Our studio is located at a stand-alone building, a professional space built specifically for teaching piano lessons; free of pets and household noises.	X
We teach total musicianship and the musical art, our students learn much more than just playing the notes correctly. All our students not only have solid techniques, but we teach theory, and all aspect of music. Because of our unique lesson structures, or students understand and love music. And for the same reason, there are no additional fees for theory and ear-training.	X
We provide opportunities for all activities including 2 recitals per year at a professional facility, Texas state theory exams, festivals and competitions. We believe participating in activities promotes progressive learning. And most importantly, we do not force students to participate in activities that they do not feel comfortable in.	X
Students take lessons on a grand piano to ensure students develop appropriate finger strengths. Our pianos are also tuned regularly to ensure students develop proper pitch hearing.	X
Our unique way of teaching proper hand position guides students to produce exceptional sound quality and also prevents injuries in the future	X
